Quantum Sails is excited to announce its continued relationship with Yacht Club Costa Smeralda as a Technical Partner for 2024. In our second decade of support, Quantum's commitment has never been stronger to the YCCS sailing community, with onsite coaching and support, as well as other events, products, and our industry-leading services.

We support the YCCS Mission to deliver world-class competition, inclusivity, and a platform for the next generation of sailors. Quantum Sails' continued goal as Technical Partner is to help ensure the YCCS racing and cruising communities have the best possible experience on the water and get maximum enjoyment from this beloved sport.

"We couldn't be more proud of this ongoing relationship with one of the most prestigious yacht clubs in the world," said Ed Reynolds, President of Quantum Sails. "Through our joint values and emphasis on elevating the sport of sailing, this partnership has helped us deliver more support and benefits to our important Italian clientele."
